These gloves are produced from quality latex. They are intended only for minimal risks. They provide hands with protection for normal housework, work with water and weakly-aggressive and diluted detergents – easily dissoluble detergents with a weak effect. The inner surface is provided with a smooth velour layer which facilitates taking them on and off. You can extend the life of the gloves if you splash them with pure water after every use and hang them to dry, avoiding any heat source.

Warning:

The material of the gloves can be damaged by paraffin, mineral oils, fats and organic solvents. The gloves are made of natural latex that can cause allergic reactions, including anaphylactic reactions.

Keep in a dry and well-ventilated room. Excessive air humidity, temperature or intense light can influence the quality of the gloves. The supplier is not liable for damages incurred from these conditions.

The product is compliant with EN 420.

The Declaration of Conformity can be found here: www.canis.cz; for individual products, in the bar "Documents to download".

Dispose of according to appropriate EU laws, and local regulations.
